Ishasha Wilderness Camp is an exclusive tented camp that offers quality accommodation in the unspoilt remote southern sector of Queen Elizabeth National Park. This region is famous for the tree-climbing lions that can sometimes be spotted resting in the branches of the large fig trees in the area. Ishasha Wilderness Camp provides excellent game viewing opportunities, with buffalo, elephants, kob, topi and other species of antelope all common.

Ishasha Wilderness Camp currently caters for up to twelve guests in six large twin-bedded, East African meru styled tents situated in the wooded area besides the Ntungwe river. Each tent has its own dressing area and also private ensuite bathroom providing hot water ?bush? showers and an eco-friendly toilet. Two more tents are planned in the near future.

A central dining area, also under canvas, provides a comfortable environment for meals and an outdoor lounge area besides the river, and evening ?fireplace? venue for guests completes the unique bush experience offered at this camp.
