Kutazama is a lodge in an absolutely gorgeous location in Shimba Hills National Reserve on the edge of an escarpment overlooking the Mwalugange Elephant Sanctuary.

Built to extremely high standards Kutazama is a luxury retreat which offers full use of the main house areas (lounges and dining area), and guest accommodation in private suites each with its own verandah, decking and huge beds. Undoubtedly one of the most breathtaking features of the property is the huge double-tiered pool, set under a 30ft high cliff, which runs the entire length of the pool area. A small feature waterfall cascades from the cliff top into the upper pool and from there escapes into the lower pool. The lower pool has been designed as a recreational pool with 4 underwater seats facing the dramatic sunsets plus an infinity edge overlooking the sanctuary. There is a BBQ area for 'alfresco' dining when the underwater pool lights create a magical night-time atmosphere.

The property extends to 31 acres, of which 7 acres are electrically fenced both for guest security and to keep the elephants out of the garden areas! The grounds are extensively landscaped and terraced with numerous meandering pathways and steps leading to viewing vantage points or shaded patio areas. All mature indigenous trees have been left in situ and a reforestation programme, together with the planting of complimentary exotic trees, shrubs and flowers creates a tropical paradise for the guests to explore and enjoy. The grounds are alive with many species of birds and exotic butterflies and the hosts have prepared lists of what guests might expect to see throughout the year.

Game drives, walks and picnics are organised in the elephant sanctuary or in Shimba Hills and any trip and activities in the Diani area can easily be arranged for guests.
