

Rocktail Bay

TRIBES TRAVEL

Our new site is still being worked on.
Missing images and information will be added shortly.

Highlights

- Raised tree-house chalets with ensuite bathrooms and private decks.
- Secluded location in the Greater St Lucia Wetland Park, on the Indian Ocean coast.
- Various activities including diving, snorkelling, guided walks and drives, fishing and horse riding.

Situation

Greater St Lucia Wetland Park, South Africa.

Activities

Diving; snorkelling; fishing; guided walks and drives; bird watching; horse riding.

Rocktail Bay Lodge is located within the Greater St Lucia Wetland Park, one of South Africa's World Heritage Sites. Enjoying a secluded setting, the lodge is situated just metres inland from the warm Indian Ocean and offers one of the most exclusive beach experiences in South Africa, with nearly 40kms of pristine coastline. Rocktail Bay Lodge is the ideal escape for people who truly want to relax and unwind on one of the wildest coastlines anywhere on earth.

Accommodation is in 11 wooden tree-house chalets, which are raised on stilts into the forest canopy. Each twin-bedded room has its own private deck, ensuite bathroom and an additional outdoor shower. A boardwalk winds from the lodge, through the dune forest and down to the beach. Each chalet offers guests total seclusion, tranquility and time to relax and enjoy the forest surroundings. There is one family chalet with one main room, and a second room with two single beds.

There are numerous activities to be enjoyed, from diving and snorkelling to guided walks and nature drives through the coastal forest and grasslands. Other activities include fishing, boating, bird watching and horse riding. Guest can also relax at the lodge on the deck by the swimming pool.

