Vamizi Island Lodge is set on the edge of the Indian Ocean on an 8km stretch of sandy beach. There are 10 luxury beach villas including 2 family villas, all set 70 metres apart to ensure privacy and seclusion. The roofs of the lodge are makuti (palm) thatch and the rooms are large, with high ceilings. All have ensuite bathrooms. The bedrooms have 4-poster king-size beds with free-standing frames draped in natural muslin mosquito nets. The burnt orange curtains are a fine muslin fabric, which complements the indigo and natural colours in the room. All rooms have a private lounge leading off from the bedroom, with deep cane couches and colonial-style planter chairs. There is a central lounge and bar area where guests can meet. The outside decks have a selection of swinging beds and loungers where guests can relax.

Vamizi Island Lodge has been designed to complement the environment. The construction uses almost entirely local materials (timber, thatch and stone all come from the mainland or the islands themselves), thus providing help to the local economy.

Guests at the lodge can enjoy a range of activities including swimming, diving, dhow sailing, fishing and visits to local villages and nearby Rongui Island.
