

Ngong House

Highlights

- Quiet guest house in the suburbs of Karen.
- Luxury accommodation in unique treehouse rooms.
- Owner hosted with excellent food.
- Close to Wilson airport and many local attractions.

Situation

Ngong House is situated in Karen, a quiet suburb of Nairobi. The secluded treehouses are set within 10 acres of private land with views out over the Ngong Hills.

Activities

Visits to Nairobi National Park, the elephant sanctuary and the Karen Blixen Museum; nature walks and sundowners.

Ngong House is a unique experience. It is a private homestay situated in the Karen/Langata area near the Ngong Hills, only a few minutes away from the house where Karen Blixen once had her coffee farm. Although you will be staying in 'treehouses' you will enjoy a very high degree of luxury. Four poster beds, crisp linen and exquisite, gourmet food are just the beginning. The main house and each treehouse have fully stocked bars.

The evenings start with sundowners on your verandah at tree level, from where you can watch the breathtaking sunsets over the Ngong Hills. Nature lovers can enjoy a large variety of birds feeding from the birdfeeder hanging in front of each treehouse. After sunset, before dinner, drinks will continue with the other guests around the camp fire under an acacia tree nearby the swimming pool.

Ngong House ideally situated to visit many of Nairobi's attractions such as Nairobi National Park, Karen Blixen Museum, and many craft centres. Nature walks are a must, especially to visit the Giraffe Centre (home of the endangered Rothschild Giraffe), a twenty minute walk from Ngong House.
