Jordan has only a small strip of coast adjacent to the Red Sea, but this area has good beaches and is rich in marine life. The small town of Aqaba is Jordan's only port and has several good hotels and restaurants. The waters of the Red Sea are famous for their unspoilt coral reefs, and this area is great for snorkeling and diving. The Red Sea is an ideal location to spend a few days relaxing after exploring the riches of the rest of the country.
